

Newfoundland and Labrador Credit Union is awarded one of the Best Places to Work in Atlantic Canada by Progress Magazine

(St. John's, NL): Newfoundland and Labrador Credit Union (NLCU) has once again been named one of the Best Places to Work in Atlantic Canada during a reception at The Westin in Halifax, May 20th. It was named one of the Best Companies in Atlantic Canada by Progress Magazine, placing #8 of all employers in the region. This will mark the 6th consecutive year that NLCU has been recognized by the magazine.

Accepting the award was Allison Chaytor-Loveys, NLCU CEO, "It is a true testament of our corporate culture receiving this award, and we are truly honoured to be recognized as one of Atlantic Canada's Best Places to Work. Throughout NLCU, we continue to create a positive work environment, and continue to strive to have the best corporate culture in the industry." Ms. Chaytor-Loveys stated.

Best Places to Work, by Progress Magazine is dedicated to finding and recognizing Atlantic Canada's best employers in the region, awarding the employers who make it a priority to create better workplaces for their employees, and highlight organizations that go above and beyond when it comes to putting employee engagement front and center in their corporate philosophies.

"The success of the NLCU team is a direct reflection of the organization's culture of continuous learning and career development." Ms. Chaytor-Loveys, CEO explains.

Newfoundland and Labrador Credit Union knows its employees make a difference and acknowledges their dedicated service. Over 85% of open positions are filled internally, as NLCU promotes a culture of continuous learning, covering the full cost of tuition and books for learning and development activities that enhance employees' skills and knowledge. As an incentive, NLCU provides employees with a bonus for successfully completing their course. NLCU also offers mentoring, cross-training, job shadowing, and has regular meetings with employees that focus on both personal and professional development.

The list of the Best Places to Work in Atlantic Canada names companies with the best practices among our region's employers that are graded by their own employees.
