

NLCU

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

October 28, 2019

NLCU Scholarship Program Awards Three Scholarship Recipients

(St. John's, NL): Newfoundland and Labrador Credit Union (NLCU) awarded three scholarships to recent high school graduates in the province as part of the 2019 NLCU Scholarship Program. Annually, NLCU takes pride in recognizing the contributions of graduating high school students, and the outstanding work they do in their schools and communities.

Each year NLCU receives applications from exceptional students from various high schools across the province.

The quality of the submissions we received this year is a clear indication of the sense of community and importance to education that our schools and teachers cultivate throughout our communities," says Glenn Bolger, COO. "The aim of our Scholarship Program is to award students on their academic successes and desires to make a positive impact. By helping fund the next chapter of their education, we hope to encourage qualities of good citizenship, academic success and personal development for youth across the province."

Gavin Snow of St. John's received The Outstanding School and Community Involvement Scholarship. Maggie Drover of Labrador City was rewarded the Outstanding School and Community Involvement Scholarship in Memory of Owen Grimes (a previous NLCU Board Member), and Lauren McGrath of Mount Pearl, was awarded the Brian F. McDonald Scholarship (which is awarded to a child of an NLCU employee or board member).

"NLCU recognizes that the growth and future of our province lies in our youth. By helping to build a bright future for the young people of our province, in turn we are ensuring a successful future for all Newfoundland and Labradorians," says Bolger.

All applicants must be: a member of NLCU, or a child of a member; be a graduate from the general academic program of provincial high school, be nominated by their principal, and be enrolled in an accredited post-secondary institution.

For more information on our scholarship program, please visit nlcu.com.

-30-

Media Contact:

Mr. Shannon Goodyear
Director, Marketing and Communications
(709) 758-8217
sgoodyear@nlcu.com